ITEM 4: ADVISORY BUSINESS

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC began operations in 2009 and the principal owner is Ken Perine, CFP®. The firm is registered with the State of California as a Registered Investment Advisor.

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC provides retirement plan consulting services to plan sponsors and/or trustees. Services provided will be agreed upon in advance of the work being performed and will be custom tailored to your needs. Services we may provide include:

- Assistance in developing and maintaining a plan Investment Policy Statement (IPS) which will provide the framework to guide you, the plan fiduciaries in your prudent decision-making process for selecting and monitoring plan investments.
- Assistance in selecting and monitoring performance of other Plan service providers, such as record keepers, third party administrators, and custodians.
- Conduct due diligence and recommend investments based on your Plan IPS criteria and objectives.
- Perform fund monitoring of the investments held by or offered as investment options in your Plan. In either case, investment options will be evaluated for compliance with selection guidelines detailed in the Plan Investment Policy Statement and ERISA requirements.
- Provide guidance to plan sponsors regarding plan design options.
- Provide investment education to plan participants (employees) to help them make more informed and productive investment decisions.

Compensation for our retirement plan consulting services is based on a flat fee schedule. For more information on our fees, see Item 5 in this brochure. In compliance with Department of Labor requirements, all fees and compensation received by Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC in relation to work performed for you will be clearly disclosed.

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC provides advice to your plan for compensation, and as such, is a “fiduciary” within the meaning of Title I of Section 3(21)(A) of ERISA and/or the Internal Revenue code. In plain English, that means we have an obligation to make sure your interests always come first. We actively seek to avoid, or at least minimize, conflicts of interest and prohibited transactions. However, all investment advisory firms will likely possess some unavoidable conflicts of interest. In those instances, when conflicts of interest arise, Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC has adopted policies to disclose the conflict and seek to keep your interests paramount at all times. This brochure explores in further detail how we act to keep your interests first during our relationship with you.

ITEM 5: FEES AND COMPENSATION

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC charges a minimum annual base charge for services to defined contribution plans of $1500, and may be more, depending on how many funds are offered in your plan. In addition to the base charge, we also charge a flat per participant charge which ranges from $100 to $400 per year per participant, depending on variables such as total plan assets, number of plan participants, and number of locations serviced in executing our agreement. The fee will be negotiated and agreed upon before work commences. The fee will be billed either in arrears or advance as determined by the specific agreement and will be pro-rated for partial quarters.

At Meritage Wealth Advisory, we are paid exclusively by our clients. Our fees are not based on investment performance and all fees are disclosed to the client in writing. We do not receive any compensation from any third party, without exception.

Management of investment assets in a defined benefit plan would be provided under an investment supervisory agreement. For more information on how we would handle that, please see our Financial Planning disclosure.

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC shall deliver four times a year an invoice for one quarter of the annual fee. Fees will be due and payable on receipt or may be deducted from plan assets based on our negotiated compensation agreement.

All fees paid to Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC for retirement plan consulting services are separate from the fees and expenses charged by broker-dealers and their representatives, mutual funds, custodians, third party investment managers, insurance providers, recordkeepers, third party administrators, and plan auditors.

Mutual fund expenses are generally described in each fund's prospectus. These expenses will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and possibly a distribution fee. In addition, mutual funds incur transaction costs and opportunity costs, which are not disclosed in the fund's prospectus or Statement of Additional Information, but which may be estimated.

Clients may incur transaction fees or commissions in connection with trading of mutual funds or ETF's. These fees are charged by the custodian (brokerage firm holding the client's assets for safekeeping). Clients should review the fees charged by the funds (including transaction and opportunity costs within funds which are not included in a fund's annual expense ratio), the transaction fees charged by the custodian, as well as the fees charged by any third-party investment managers to fully understand the total amount of fees and costs paid by the client. For a discussion of our practice in recommending brokers (custodians) to our clients, please see Item 12.

Clients may also incur “account termination fees” upon the transfer of an account from one brokerage firm (custodian) to another. You should contact your custodian (brokerage firms, bank, or trust company, etc.) to determine the amount of account termination fees which may be charged and deducted from your accounts for any existing accounts which may be transferred.

Clients may also incur fees and/or commissions on insurance products they choose to purchase based on our recommendations. You are advised to review those agreements to make sure all costs are understood.

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC believes that the charges and fees offered are competitive with those offered by other firms offering similar services; however, lower fees for comparable services may be available.

ITEM 6: PERFORMANCE BASED FEES

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC does not use a performance-based fee structure because that might create an incentive for us to recommend investments that could carry a higher level of risk for the client.

ITEM 7: TYPES OF CLIENTS

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC generally provides retirement plan consulting services to business owners, benefit plan sponsors, benefit plan trustees, and/or retirement plan investment committees.

ITEM 8: METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

Our security analysis is based upon several factors including those derived from commercially available software technology, securities rating services, general economic and market and financial information, due diligence reviews, and specific investment analyses that clients may request. The main sources of information include commercially available investment information and evaluation services, financial newspapers and journals, academic white papers and periodicals. Research is also received from consultants, including financial economists affiliated with various fund companies. Prospectuses, statements of additional information, other issuer prepared information, and data aggregation services (Morningstar, etc.) are also utilized. Investment Committee members and advisors also attend various investment and financial planning conferences.

When formulating an investment policy statement for a retirement plan, we recognize that plan participants may have varied investment time horizons, risk tolerance levels, and investment goals. Because of this we recommend that plan investment options include a sufficiently broad selection of asset classes so that participants will be able to combine them in a manner that will best meet their individual time horizons, risk tolerance, and performance goals. This approach incorporates the principles of Modern Portfolio Theory, a theory that suggests that strategic asset allocation is the determining factor for most of the expected long-term gross returns of investor's portfolios and that the utilization of several different asset classes usually reduces portfolio volatility (i.e., the standard deviation of the portfolio returns) over long periods of time.

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC generally will apply the following or similar due diligence criteria in recommending investment fund options available in the plan:

- Regulatory Oversight: Fund offerings will be from regulated mutual fund organizations.
- Assets under Management: Fund offerings will be large enough to ensure sufficient liquidity.
- Minimum Track Record: The fund shall have been in existence long enough to gauge a long-term track record.
- Stability of Organization: There should be no perceived organizational problems and we prefer for fund management to be in place for at least two years.
- Correlation to Style: The fund shall be highly correlated to the asset class of the investment option.
- Holdings Consistent with Style: No more than 20% of holdings in the fund shall be invested in "unrelated" asset class securities.
- Performance Relative to Peer Group: Funds recommended for the plan will generally have above average long-term performance relative to its peer group.
- Expense Ratios: Funds recommended shall generally have expense ratios below average for their peer group.
- Performance Relative to Assumed Risk: Funds selected shall have return ratings better or equal to their risk rating.

These selection criteria will often lead us to recommending low cost, passive investment vehicles like index funds, low-cost no-load mutual funds, and exchange traded funds (ETF's), but may include some actively managed funds.

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that plan participants should be prepared to bear. History shows that while interest generating investments such as bond portfolios have the advantage of relative stability of principal value, they provide little opportunity for real long-term capital growth due to their susceptibility to inflation. On the other hand, equity investments, such as common stocks, clearly have a significantly higher expected return, but have the disadvantage of much greater year by year variability of return. In some years, declines can be significant. From an investment decision making point of view, this year-by-year variability may be worth accepting, provided a sufficient time horizon (not usually less than 5 years) to accomplish the participants' investment goals. Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC cannot provide any guarantee that participant goals and objectives will be achieved.

ITEM 9: DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

The firm and its employees have not been involved in any legal or disciplinary events related to past or present activities.

ITEM 10: OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC does not have arrangements that are material to its advisory business or its clients with any related person. We expect that clients to whom we offer retirement plan consulting services may also be financial planning or investment advisory services clients. In that case, clients are notified that fees paid to Meritage Wealth Advisory for these other services are separate and distinct from fees earned for Retirement Plan Consulting. Clients will be informed that they are under no obligation to use Meritage Wealth Advisory or Ken Perine, CFP® for other services and may use any brokerage firm or third-party service provider of their choosing. See Item 19 for more information on Ken's other business activities.

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC may at times recommend unrelated third-party service providers (i.e. record keepers, third party administrators, attorneys, etc.) who have a greater expertise in certain disciplines when appropriate for the client. This could create the appearance of a conflict of interest. When making these recommendations, we do not receive any compensation or referral fee from any of these advisors, and Meritage Wealth Advisory LLC clients are under no obligation to engage the services of any such recommended professional.

Additional information on how we manage conflicts of interest can be found in Item 11 ("Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading") and Item 12 ("Brokerage Practices") of this Brochure.

ITEM 12: BROKERAGE PRACTICES

Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC will generally defer to custodial recommendations of the Plan record keeper, as they will usually have significant interaction and strong working relationships with different custodians. As part of our due diligence on service providers we will review custodians recommended by record keepers for financial strength, reasonable fees, and reporting capabilities.

Client accounts maintained by these brokerage firms may be charged separately for transactions and custody services provided or may be compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed by the brokerage. These fees are in addition to fees charged by Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC, and are not paid to Meritage Wealth Advisory, LLC. Reviews of Plan fund options will be conducted on a timely basis, but not less than quarterly, to ensure funds offered continue to conform to the criteria outlined in the Plan Investment Policy Statement. A fund may be placed on a “watchlist” and a thorough review and analysis of the fund may be conducted when the fund falls out of compliance with any of the search criteria outlined in the Plan Investment Policy Statement. In holding with our belief that fund performance should be evaluated from a long-term perspective, the decision to replace a fund cannot be made by a formula but will be based on the specific circumstances and options available at the time. All reviews will be conducted by the principal, Ken Perine.
